

Grayling Updates Operating Divisions

First GPS Fleet Management Orders

CALGARY, AB - (March 27, 2007) - Grayling Wireless USA, Inc. (Pink Sheets: GRYW) today provided updates for its three operating divisions.

GPS Communications Division

Following successful field trials the company's GPS Communications Division, based in Gaborone, Botswana, received first orders for its new fleet management/vehicle tracking system. Orders totaling fifty-one in-vehicle systems have been received from two customers with installations underway. Another potential customer representing significant prospective revenues for the company is nearing the end of its field trials. The company expects to be in position to provide more details on this significant potential order in the near future.

Radio Communications Division

The company has received a repeat order from its first customer, an industrial client based in Sarnia, Ontario, Canada. Additionally, the company recently announced that its Radio Communications Division has completed deliveries of ClearCalm™ Advantage-S systems to U.S. municipal fire departments in Colorado and Arizona. ClearCalm™ Advantage-S systems are currently under evaluation by numerous prospective customers throughout North America and the company will continue to announce additional sales in both the private and public sectors in the near future.

Software Division

As recently announced, the company's Software Division continues to post solid revenues. For the first five months of the current fiscal year Sentai Software has booked revenues of $1,632,309 (unaudited). Also during this update period Sentai announced the signing of an agreement with Cognos whereby Sentai will incorporate Cognos 8 Business Intelligence tools into Sentai's TRAX ERP and PinPoint software environments.
